

STATE OF ARKANSAS
WON BY DEMOCRATS

THAT IS, IF YOU CALL POPOCRATS DEMOCRATS.

Indications Based on the Returns From Some of the Most Populous Counties, And That the Majority Will Reach 60,000—No Serious Trouble Reported.

Little Rock, Ark., Sept. 8.—Semi-official estimated returns of Monday's election received here from Faulkner, Conway, Franklin, Crawford, Washington, Ouachita, Miller, Phillips and Jefferson counties, give Col. D. W. Jones (dem.) an aggregate plurality vote of 15,000. These are nine of the principal counties in the state having telegraphic communication, and, taking this vote as a basis, Jones' plurality will be 65,000 in the seventy-five counties.

Jefferson and Pope counties say the democratic ticket has 9,000 majority. The vote in this (Pulaski) county will not be finished before to-morrow, but the indications point to a democratic plurality of 4,000. Liquor will carry by 1,800 majority.

Carroll Armstrong, chairman of the democratic central committee, predicts

In Arkansas will show a democratic gain of more than 35,000, as compared with the gubernatorial election two years ago, and the largest majority ever given in the state.

WATSON TAKES THE STUMP.

Incidentally He Remarks that He Never Will Get Off the Populist Ticket.

Dallas, Texas, Sept. 8.—Thomas E. Watson of Georgia, vice-presidential nominee of the populist party, addressed a Labor day audience of 5,000 people Monday. He speaks at Bonham, Texas, to-day, and from there goes to Kansas. In part he said:

"If I came off the ticket it would mean the death of the populist party. If you are honest in demanding silver legislation you should not want the whole thing. Where would the silver cause have been in 1894 and in 1895 if it had not been for the people's party? Sewall has got to come down. I have got to stand on the ticket where my friends placed me. I can't come down. You may try to run me off, but I am going to fight before you do it. I am willing to go into partnership with you, but I don't want any Jonah and the whale business, with you playing the whale. You might forget to do what the whale did with Jonah. We might never get out any more."

BIG ENGLISH LABOR MEETING OPENS.

Important Measures Under Consideration by Delegates Representing Millions of British Craftsmen—Some of the Demands to be Made—They Want No "Wide Mouths."

Edinburgh, Sept. 8.—The twenty-ninth annual trade union congress of Great Britain opened its sessions at noon Monday. About 360 delegates were in attendance. The congress will close Saturday. John Burns, Keir Hardie and Henry Broadhurst are not present. In their places are Northumberland and Durham miners, and the boilermakers, who latterly have taken no part in the annual congress.

Samuel Woods, secretary of the parliamentary committee, in an interview with a representative of the Associated Press, previous to the meeting, said:

"We have not more than 360 delegates this year, owing to the new standing orders. Under the old constitution there would have been over 700 delegates. The delegates this year are only bona-fide workers at their trades

WHOLESALE ARRESTS MADE IN CUBA.

Victims Charged With Conspiracy Against the Government—Gen Weyler Has a Plan to Force the Revolutionists to a Battle Probably Wholly Within His Mind.

Havana, Sept. 8.—The work of arresting people charged with conspiracy against the government continues here. Last week the American colony was startled by the arrest of Samuel S. Tolon, a naturalized American and a prominent merchant of Cardenas, who was captured on board the Ward Line steamer Seneca, as she was on the point of sailing to the United States. Yesterday a magistrate, Senor Gonzales, Llanuza, was taken into custody and placed in solitary confinement. The same day a prominent lawyer, Senor Alberto Zayas, a brother of the well-known general of that name, was also placed in secret confinement, and the arrest is announced of Senors Enrique Lama and Ignacio Lama, brothers; Senor Hernandez, an American, and Herr Hubert Blank, a German.

METHODISTS TO MEET.

Annual Rock River Conference Will Gather at Freeport.

Freeport, Ill., Sept. 8.—The annual Rock River conference of the Methodist Episcopal church will be held in this city, beginning Wednesday, Sept. 30. Bishop Edwin G. Andrews of Philadelphia will preside. The arrangements are in the hands of the presiding elder at Freeport. The Rock River conference now comprises ministers from 365 churches.

The first business session will be held Wednesday afternoon, and the conference will continue its meetings until Saturday, and perhaps longer if the business requires it. The first two days will be taken up with reports of the presiding elders. Special committees will be appointed to examine probationers who may be present themselves for ordination as deacons, and for deacons desiring to become elders. Fourteen probationers and twenty-one deacons will come before the committees, which will report to the conference some time Friday.

A vote of the conference will be taken on the question of admitting women as delegates to the quadrennial conference. This matter caused considerable excitement at the Cleveland meeting and was sent back to the district conferences for action at their next meeting. On two former occasions

GOLD STATE TICKET
MAY BE PUT UP

STATE CENTRAL COMMITTEE TO MEET THURSDAY.

Silverthorn, the Popocratic Candidate, Is Said to Decline All Gold Support—Gen. Bragg Named as the Probable Candidate—The Committee is Authorized to Act.

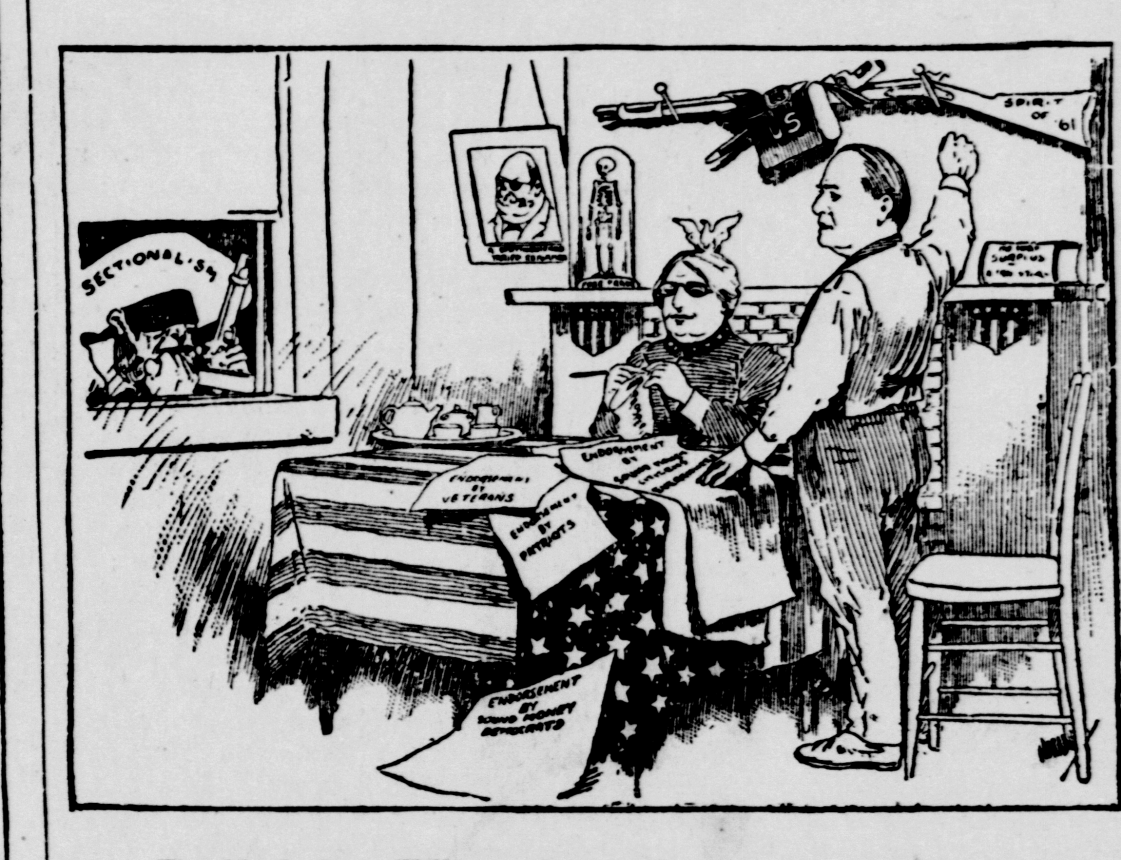

Milwaukee, Wis., Sept. 8.—The members of the state central committee of the gold democracy have been summoned to Milwaukee to meet here Thursday to take some action in reference to a state ticket. It is being urged that a state ticket should be placed in the field at once, and Gen. Bragg is being mentioned as the probable nominee for governor. Most of the democratic silver leaders do not wish their ticket to be endorsed by the gold democrats. In fact, it is said that W. C. Silverthorn, the gubernatorial nominee, is a strong silver man and does not want the gold support. The business of nominating a state ticket was left with the state central committee by the gold convention and the matter will be decided at the meeting Thursday.

the election of the entire democratic state ticket by 65,000 majority. Judging from the increase in the vote already received many of the colored voters in Woodruff and Jackson counties voted the straight democratic ticket. Several of the counties so far heard from have doubled their vote.

Henry M. Cooper concedes the election of the ticket by 45,000 majority.

Official returns from Phillips, Woodruff, Franklin, Lafayette, Faulkner, Fulton and Sharp counties all give largely increased democratic majorities. In Phillips Jones gets a majority of 1,100, in Woodruff 1,900, in Franklin 800, and in Sharp 1,700. Faulkner county, heretofore one of the strongest populist counties in the state, elects a full democratic ticket.

Reports from Jefferson county, another republican stronghold, Pine Bluff being its capital, show that the county goes for the democrats by 1,300. Hot Springs says Garland county gives an increased democratic majority, estimated to be 1,700. Texarkana says Miller county is in line with 1,200 democratic majority, with probably a larger vote on completion of the count.

The gold democrats are said to have voted the straight democratic free-silver ticket almost solidly at every precinct so far heard from, and it is believed that this policy has largely prevailed throughout the state.

A report from Clinton, Van Buren county, one of the strongholds of populism, says a clash occurred there between the democrats and populists, and that it was for a time feared a riot would occur, but after a few of the leaders had been knocked down the differences were settled.

A great effort was made to drive whisky from Little Rock, but the count up to this time gives the liquor men the advantage by 555 votes, and the total vote of the county may increase this majority to at least 1,200. The whisky men worked at the polls all day more zealously than was ever known before in the history of the town.

Reports from Fayetteville, Fort Smith, Texarkana and Pine Bluff say the election passed off quietly in those sections, and, excepting a few knock-downs, no serious trouble occurred during the day. It is estimated at democratic headquarters that at least 80 per cent of the 20,000 poll-tax receipts were voted, and all reports received say the populists scratched files for governor and cast their ballots for Jones. It is said that about 45,000 certificates were issued to colored voters, and reports from the colored belt of the state say they turned out and voted more generally than for years past, their votes going for Rummel, whose vote is estimated at 40,000. Files, populist, and Miller, prohibitionist and national, will get between 5,000 and 10,000.

Memphis, Tenn., Sept. 8.—The Commercial Appeal's Little Rock correspondent telegraphs that the majority will arrive here to-day and be formally notified by the national silver party of his presidential nomination. The notification will probably take place at the north front of the state house during the afternoon, provided the chairman of the committee on notification arrive in time. The committee has arranged to have a number of the silver party from all over the west, who will visit Lincoln on that occasion, deliver addresses at meetings which will be held at several points in the city to-night and such times on Tuesday as will not interfere with the notification. Senator Teller, Congressman Towne and Ignatius Donnelly are booked on the programme for speeches at these meetings.

The general programme on Tuesday will be the arrival of Mr. Bryan on the Burlington train at 10:15 a. m. He will be met by a reception committee of 100, headed by the Nebraska State band. This committee will escort Mr. Bryan to his home. At 1 o'clock in the afternoon there will be a parade of visiting clubs, ending at the capitol grounds, where arrangements have been made for an outdoor meeting. It is not yet known to the local committee whether the official notification will take place at the afternoon's meeting or at another meeting to be held in the evening. Whether the notification is given at this time or not, the committee is assured that Mr. Bryan will address the people on the capitol grounds during the afternoon.

Stevenson Is for Bryan.

Chicago, Sept. 8.—Vice-President Adlai E. Stevenson and Senator James K. Jones of the democratic national committee had a long conference yesterday. The vice-president told the senator that he was with the Bryan ticket heart and soul, and that he would vote for it, and may be would make a few speeches for it. During the meeting, which was held in Chairman Jones' private room, William J. Bryan was admitted, and the vice-president repeated the assertions he had made to Mr. Jones.

Senator Teller at Morrison, Ill.

Morrison, Ill., Sept. 8.—Senator Henry M. Teller delivered his first speech of the campaign in this place Monday in the city courthouse yard from a platform erected for the purpose. The number of people present was variously estimated at from 2,000 to 3,000. This was the early home of Senator Teller. The senator left here this morning for Chicago, where he will spend the day with the executive committee of the democratic party. He will then leave for Grand Rapids, Mich., where he is announced to speak Wednesday next.

"An intimation of the trend of this congress is contained in a resolution proposed by the power-loom overlookers to rescind the famous collectivist resolution adopted at the Norwich congress of 1894, on the initiative of Kier Hardie, and in its place to substitute the following: 'That, in the opinion of this congress, it is essential to the maintenance of British industries to nationalize the land, mines, minerals, royalty, rents and railways, and municipalize all water, artificial light and tramways undertakings within their several authorities, and that the parliamentary committee be instructed to promote and support legislation with the above object.'

"Councilor W. Thorne of the gas-workers will ask the congress to declare for the eight-hour day. E. Harford of the railway men will bring up the question of employers' liability.

"Factory legislation, payment of members of parliament, taxation of land values and ground rents, which, it is demanded, be made 'a test question at the next general election,' employment of children in factories and their consequent exploitation by the capitalist, which is injurious to the children, unjust to their parents and a crime against the human race; municipalization of docks, wharves and warehouses; release of all political prisoners; grievances of civilian musicians; hours of domestic servants, which are not to be more than seventy a week, including one and one-half hours for meals a day; fair wages; compensation for injuries; the hours of shop assistants, government contracts, old-age pensions, education and public money and many other matters all have places on the program.

"The Miners' National union, representing 76,000 miners on the northern counties, sent thirteen delegates, including Messrs. T. Burt, M. P., C. Fenwick, M. P., and John Wilson, M. P. Among the other societies represented are the boilermakers, 39,300 members; boot and shoe operatives, 41,000; Amalgamated Society of Carpenters and Joiners, 44,000; card and blowing-room hands, 24,500; Alliance Cabinetmakers, 4,000; coachmakers, 5,958; London Society of Compositors, 10,500; Dockers' union, 100,000; Amalgamated Society of Engineers, 83,980; Gas Workers' union, 24,000; Miners' Federation of Great Britain, 154,000; Amalgamated Society of Railway Servants, 49,108, and Northern Counties Weavers' association, 83,325."

A meeting of the dockers was held at Cannington in connection with the threatened strike in that trade. It was announced at this meeting that 1,750,000 continental dockers had joined the International Federation director of the Academy of Music here. All the persons mentioned are detained incommunicado; that is to say, they are not allowed to communicate with their friends or with counsel. Sooner or later, it is to be presumed, they will be shipped to some penal settlement, and that will be the last heard of them.

Weyler Forms a New Plan.

Havana, Sept. 8.—It is reported here that the captain general has formed a new plan of campaign which is certain to end the insurrection one way or another. If rumor in this case turns out to be founded on facts some thirty Spanish steamers, loaded with troops, will arrive here before the end of this month and an overpowering military cordon or dragnet will be formed of all the troops available, stretching a line, practically of armed men, backed by a second and a third reserve line, from north to south, and which will be drawn from one end of the island to the other, thus cornering the insurgents and compelling them to fight a pitched battle.

KENTUCKY SONS OF VETERANS

Delegations Reach Louisville To Attend Annual Encampment.

Louisville, Ky., Sept. 8.—A number of officers of the Sons of Veterans, as well as several state delegations, arrived Monday to attend the annual encampment.

To-day is down on the programme as arrival day, but crowds of visitors are already coming in from all directions. Commander in Chief Russell, accompanied by Adjutant General Bordin and several members of the staff, came in from the west, while Colonel Cooper of Knoxville, junior vice commander; Colonel Carter of Knoxville, commander of the division of Alabama and Tennessee, and a number of visitors came from the south. The Kanzas, Indiana and Illinois delegations got in last night. The parade Wednesday morning, which is the first important event of the encampment, promises to be the most successful ever given by the order.

Will Share the Electors.

Anderson, Ind., Sept. 8.—National Committeeman Fernandez of the populist party was seen Monday concerning Mr. Sewell's positive refusal to withdraw his name from the ticket in favor of Watson. He says the two national committees—free silver and populist—will soon hold a meeting in St. Louis and agree to share equally the electors on the tickets in all of the states, and the division will be made as nearly as possible on lines of possible equality in view of the returns.

Spain To Increase Her Navy.

Madrid, Sept. 8.—Admiral Beranger, the minister of marine, has decided to purchase in Scotland an ironclad of 10,500 tons and a cruiser of 6,500 tons, costing respectively £750,000 ($3,750,000) and £315,000 ($1,575,000) and two torpedo catchers.

ions Rock River has favored the women's cause, and it is said that the forthcoming conference will follow the same precedent. Only two conferences have met since the Cleveland gathering, and each has refused to uphold the women's claims.

A DAY OF MOURNING.

Business Suspended in Benton Harbor and St. Joseph.

Benton Harbor, Mich., Sept. 8.—Business was suspended in Benton Harbor and St. Joseph Monday, owing to the burning of the opera house, which caused the death of eleven men Sunday morning. Every business house and many residences were draped in mourning. Preparations are being made for the funeral of five of the Benton Harbor victims. It will be held to-day from the Methodist church. The various fraternal societies, city council, fire department, etc., will turn out in uniform. The funerals of Arthur C. Hill and Robert Rofe were held in St. Joseph Monday afternoon and hundreds of people were turned away from the churches. The coroner's jury adjourned until to-day, when it will meet to attempt to ascertain the cause of the terrible disaster and place the blame where it is due.

Plot by Walling and Jackson.

Cincinnati, O., Sept. 8.—Jackson and Walling, the Pearl Bryan murderers, are not, hereafter, to have the privileges which have heretofore been accorded them in the Covington jail. It has been found that, through visitors and gifts of food, a plan for escape had been made, which was to have been carried into effect at 6 o'clock this morning. Jackson was discovered in a whispered conversation with a colored burglar, Walker. The plot was revealed by a prisoner. Walker was dragged from his cell and a new revolver was found in his pocket, and a saw in his cell. Several saws were found in Walling's cell. Jackson's cell was searched, but nothing found there. Visitors hereafter will be closely watched.

The Czar and the Emperor Part.

Goritz, Sept. 8.—Emperor William and Czar Nicholas, with the empress and the czarina, witnessed the review of the 5th army corps.

The departure of the czar and czarina was marked by an enthusiastic popular ovation. All of the German princes and the court officials awaited their majesties at the station. The line of march was lined with troops and behind the troops stood the dense masses of people, who cheered vociferously as the two rulers passed. On the platform at the station the czar and czarina bade adieu to the German princes and to the other distinguished persons gathered there, and then, in the most cordial manner, they bade their farewells to the emperor and empress of Germany.

Black is to inform Chairman Ewing of the national democratic state committee to-day as to whether he will accept the nomination for governor given him by the state convention which met in Battery D on Aug. 25. So far Gen. Black has preserved silence regarding his intentions, but it is generally understood he will decline the nomination, and the state committee will at once proceed to fill his place.

ROCK ALL RIGHT PATTERSON SAYS

HE TALKED WITH MEN OF BOTH SIDES.

Hon. John Winans, He Says, Did Not

Take a Very Rosy View of the Situation—E. M. Hyzer Quoted as Saying He Would Stump For McKinley and Honest Money—George G. Sutherland Interviewed—Secretary Jackson's Views—City Complimented.

Col. Patterson, the Washington correspondent of The Chicago Tribune, visited Janesville yesterday, and as the result of his visit, the following article appears in today's paper:

Janesville, Wis., Sept. 7.—[Special.]—If reports from the rest of the state are as generally good as those from Rock county, Wis., it may be depended upon to give a safe majority for McKinley and Hobart in November. Here in Janesville, which is very nearly in the center of Rock county, there is an excellent opportunity to get an idea of the situation in the agricultural districts. The county is thoroughly gridironed by the different divisions of the Chicago and Northwestern, and the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul railroads, and the means of communication are much better than those of counties in the northern part of the state, where it is often difficult to locate the sore spots in a political canvass.

In Beloit there is a significant state of affairs. The College City is a manufacturing center, but under the influence of adverse tariff legislation and the universal want of confidence, the workmen are largely idle. Men formerly employed in the Eclipse wind mill works, the John Thompson plow and "Berlin machine works, and similar establishments, have long been out of work, and are feeling the pressure even more than the farmers, for the latter can at least raise enough for their own tables, while the workman must purchase for cash or credit everything he eats.

The republican headquarters were opened in Beloit recently with the idea of keeping open house at the noon hour when the men were idle. It was soon found that there were such large numbers idle all day, and the applications for the keys were so frequent, that it became necessary to keep the headquarters open all day and well into the evening. Beloit always has been a republican stronghold, having given Upham 1,250 votes in 1894, against 499 for Peck, with only 100 for the prohibitionists and Populists. Beloit with a strong republican majority is in the field today as it was in 1894 and similar reports are received from Milton, Clinton, Evansville and Hanover, the other railroad centers.

Situation Strong For McKinley.

It is here in Janesville that the battle is usually fought and it is just here that the situation is the strongest for McKinley. The gold democratic sentiment is pronounced, and a number of the most pronounced democrats in Janesville, men who have hitherto given time and money to the party ticket, are openly repudiating Bryan.

The Recorder, the democratic morning paper, took an active part in selecting gold delegates to the Chicago convention, and was distinctly with Bragg in the fight he made there. After Bryan had been nominated and the free silver anarchist platform adopted the old democratic organ was silent for a week, chewing the cud of melancholy disappointment and wavering between the devil and the deep sea. It finally landed with the populists, however, and has since shouted for silver as lustily as it formerly did for gold, thereby destroying the influence it might have had. The solid democrats of Janesville, however, generally refused to swallow their portion of crow as their paper did.

From interviews with the men themselves it is evident that the majority of them will vote for McKinley if the state seems at all doubtful at election time. Otherwise they will express their sentiments by voting for Palmer. Such men as Max Pfennig, A. M. Valentine, Dr. Whiting, ex-Surgeon General of the Grand Army of the Republic; E. M. Hyzer of the Janesville Water company, George G. Sutherland the lawyer; and other democratic leaders have openly revolted, while others say nothing for publication, but will be heard from on election day.

The extent of this revolt is shown by the fact that such a man as Max Pfennig, who is known all over the county, and who seldom appears at the polls election day without a personal following of a score or so, has jumped the populist track entirely, and has been made a vice president of the republican club. E. M. Hyzer of the water company, another old-time democrat, walked into the republican club the other night, and made a speech for McKinley and sound money. He will later on take the stump and makes no bones of it, either.

Wisconsin Labor Profits By Experience

Janesville, as every one knows, who knows it at all, is a model city, clean, wholesome, prosperous. The cotton mills, machine works, cigar box factories, wire works, flour mills, foundries, and other enterprises give employment to as intelligent a lot of men as are often seen, a fact which was abundantly demonstrated by the Labor Day parade here today. On both sides of the Rock river one finds substantial business houses and handsome residences. One may go to the court house and other gathering places without finding idle men discussing the silver question, as is so common elsewhere. There are plenty of idle men here, but not of the vagrant stripe.

Some attempt has been made to array the poor against the rich, but it doesn't work in this typical American community, for the people remember that Mr. Lovejoy, who is probably the richest man here, came into town with a pack on his back, while Mr. Jeffris drove a yoke of oxen into town.

There are no millionaires and few paupers, but hundreds of workmen, who would make homes for themselves, as others have done, if the country were not upset by fear of the success of the repudiation policy. It is a poor place for the silver agitators, this thriving town of Janesville, and it is not strange that the Bryan people do not make much headway here.

One of the leaders of the gold democratic movement is George G. Sutherland, the well known lawyer, who is also interested in the Janesville Cotton company and is connected with a bank or two. His democracy is unquestioned. In talking of the situation today in his office on the bridge, he said to The Tribune correspondent:

"This country will go for McKinley by a larger majority than the republicans had in 1894. It is hard to make estimates at this time, but I believe that at least one-third of the democrats here in Janesville are for the gold standard. About half of the number will vote directly for McKinley if there is the least doubt as to how the state is going. My information is that the farmers at first were tinged with the silver sentiment, but they are now coming back. The substantial men out in the country are strong against free silver. We have no very rich men here against whom the poor man can be arrayed, and those who have any money, earned every dollar of it, as everybody knows, by hard work. I do not think the silver craze has made much headway among the people.

Open Talk For Repudiation.

"I have, however, just come back from South Dakota, having been all through that state, and the silver sentiment is strong there. I was in one county where all the county officers were populists. I hadn't seen such a thing before. They said very frankly they wanted to repudiate their debts. They declared they did not want to pay off mortgages at fifty cents on the dollar, but at ten cents, if it could be done.

"Flat repudiation is what they want, and if the silver cause should triumph in November, the next thing would be fiat money. I have told our farmers and democrats generally here, that the only thing for us to have done was to have adopted at Chicago a hard money platform similar to that adopted at Indianapolis. Had the convention done that, money would have become plenty, and interest low at once. There is plenty of money in London today, which would come here the minute capitalists were assured as to the future. The Dakota people are hard up and want to get out of their debts at any price, but down about Yankton I found a healthy sentiment for sound money. Our bank here, in which I am interested, has received letters from its correspondents in Milwaukee, Chicago and New York, asking for information as to the probabilities of the election on a purely business standpoint.

"The big banks and capitalists propose to be prepared for the outcome. They will trim their sails according to the wind that blows, and so far as they are concerned the results of a vote for silver would be largely discounted, while the effect of the blow would be felt chiefly by the farmers and the laboring men, who have not the resources or the forethought to prepare in advance for the change in the financial policy of the country. On the whole I am rather glad that this agitation has come just at this time. There are some silly ideas abroad which need to be disposed of once for all, and the education the people are receiving now will help them hereafter to stop foolish financial theories from taking root."

Farmers Do Their Own Thinking.

Rock county is in the lower tier of Wisconsin counties, running down to the state line and adjoining Winnebago and Boone in Illinois. The farmers of this Rock River Valley are substantial men, and though they have suffered from the prevailing low prices for agricultural products, are too well informed to believe that the hard times of 1893 to 1896 were caused by an underhanded blow struck at silver twenty years ago. The Rock river, with its abundant water power, at frequent intervals, has brought the farmers into close connection with outside forces and they are largely republicans, and protectionists. Throughout the valley, too, are many farmers of German and Scandinavian extraction or birth, and these are all sound on the money question. Some of them are in debt, but that makes no difference; they want a dollar worth its face anywhere, and hence they scoff at Bryan's repudiation schemes.

In 1892, under the influence of the school question and the general democratic landslide, Rock county gave Harrison 2,820 plurality over Cleveland. Populism and other crankeries do not take well in this section, as is shown by the fact that Weaver and Bidwell, the populist and prohibition candidates for president, together only polled 553 out of a total of 10,936 votes.

After two years of Cleveland's administration, including the panic time of 1893, the Rock county farmers gathered themselves and gave Upham, the republican candidate for governor, 3,065 majority over Peck, with the usual trifling vote for the "isms." This was only two years ago, and there seems to be no present reason visible to the naked eye why they should not repeat the performance this year.

Fusion Cuts Little Figure.

There is a fusion this year, but the "Pops" and "Prohibs" are too weak in Rock county to make fusion much of a figure. The campaign in the county is already under way, and the Chairman of the Republican County committee, Captain W. T. Vankirk, the River street grocer, is pushing the fight in all the outlying districts, as well as in the city.

District Attorney Jackson, Secretary of the County committee, said this afternoon: "We are just getting in the books from our canvass of the county. I have not tabulated the returns yet, but so far as I can see, the number of republicans who will vote for Bryan is very small. Here and there the canvasser reports a vote for Bryan, but on the whole the farmers are solid for McKinley. The Germans and Scandinavians are all solid for sound money, and many who were Cleveland four years ago are for McKinley now. I do not see that the silver craze has taken any great hold on the farmers and I believe that Rock county will hold to the big republican majority of 1894."

B. F. Nowlan, of The Gazette, says: "There is little silver sentiment in the county so far as I can see. Some of the farmers believe that silver has not been treated just right and that some legislation is necessary, but they will, almost without exception, vote the republican ticket. We have correspondents in forty towns in the county. I look over their reports carefully, and I fail to find any evidence of any extensive silver sentiment."

Silver View of the Situation.

John Winans, who formerly represented the district in Congress, is one of the old-line democrats who never changes whatever the party may do, and so Mr. Winans, though a good lawyer and a well informed man, sticks out for silver and Bryan. He was, however, very cautious as to his claims. "There is not much activity on either side," said the ex-congressman, "and it is too early to say what the result will be in this district. I hear of some gold democratic sentiment here in Janesville, but not over half a dozen have announced themselves, and I think the movement is small. I believe we will gain three silver republicans for every gold democrat we lose. The farmers are in a bad way and think this a good year to try the experiment of free coinage of silver."

For a man who has led his party to victory and himself to congress Mr. Winans did not seem enthusiastic over the outlook, and yet he is probably the leading populist of Rock county.

COUNTY PRESIDENT ISSUES
AN OFFICIAL NOTICE.

Urges All Members of the Order to Assist Secretary Watt and Make the Show a Credit to the County—The Week at Evansville—County News.

North Johnstown, Sept. 8.—At a meeting of the Rock County W. C. T. U., held in Janesville in July, it was decided to serve meals at our dining hall upon the fair grounds during fair week. Our very efficient superintendent, Mrs. Mary Murwin, of Fulton, has had a large experience in this kind of work, and will do all in her power to make the work successful. It is desired that each union appoint solicitors to solicit funds and provisions to supply the tables, and also send as many helpers as possible. We are assured by the general secretary, D. W. Watt, that no intoxicating liquor, including hard cider, will be sold upon the grounds. No entry fee will be charged for exhibits, which should insure a grand display. Let us all rally to make the coming fair worthy of old Rock, one of the richest counties in the state. Mrs. H. B. O'BORN, president Rock County W. C. T. U.

A Y. W. C. T. U. has been organized in Beloit, who are anxious to distribute literature, and help forward the work at the fair grounds. Success to them. That is just the truth about Hood's Sarsaparilla. Prepared by a combination, proportion and process unknown to other medicines, it has curative powers peculiar to itself. We know it possesses great merit because it has standing, but all will be shedded this week. Potatoes are yielding a good crop. The city is overrun with "melon vendors." No one need go melon hungry these days. E. Harris is home from Madison, to spend a few weeks. Archie Morgan, P. Newman, C. Litzel, and several others were down from Madison to attend Saturday night's party. Miss Pyre of Edgerton, has commenced her school in the Hopkins district, one mile east of here. The pretty flower garden in the North-western park will soon be claimed by Jack Frost. On account of the "hard times" the Baker Manufacturing Co.'s shops are running only four days each week. Mr. and Mrs. Wellington Smith have been rejoicing over the arrival of a daughter, since Thursday. Rev. Henry Sewell has moved from Sun Prairie to his farm west of this city. Col. G. W. Hall, the great showman, came up from Chicago, where they are still located, to spend Sunday. Miss Cusick left Monday for Madison, where she will teach in the public schools the coming year. Among those who went to St. Paul and other points of western excursion, outside of the G. A. B., were Mr. and Mrs. Ollie Colony, Mr. and Mrs. I. D. Clifford, Mrs. Lydia Williams, Mrs. William Wilson, Mrs. H. H. Blood, Andrew Manning, E. D. Holmes, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Doolittle, V. C. Holmes, Mrs. E. VanPatten, Mrs. A. M. Barnes, H. W. Afton, Sept. 8.—The Y. P. S. C. E., of the Baptist church, is arranging for a peach festival to be given at the church next Friday evening. A cordial invitation is extended to all to be present. Afton Woodmen do not appear to be in the league with the weather clerk, for rain again interfered with the ball game, which was to have been played last Friday. The unmarried men were again in the lead when the game was called, at the end of the second inning. Painters have been at work on both the interior and exterior of the Chicago & Northwestern depot here during the past week, and as a result we have a very neat appearing station now. Mrs. S. P. THIS DAY IN HISTORY.

1560—Amy Robarts, wife of the Earl of Leicester, murdered by his order.
1550—Princess Elizabeth died in Carisbrooke castle; born 1533; daughter to Charles I.
1828—General George Crook born at Dayton, O.; died 1891.
1855—End of the siege of Sevastopol and retreat of the Russians.
1860—The Lady Elgin, mail steamer, lost in Lake Michigan with 300 passengers; Mr. Herbert Ingraham, member of parliament and proprietor of The Illustrated London News, was among the lost.
1864—The Count of Paris, head of the French royal family and grandson of Louis Philippe, made his appearance by the death of his father, the Duke of Orleans, died in London, where he had long resided as an exile; born 1838. The Count of Paris was one of the Orleans princes who served on the staff of General McClellan on the peninsula in 1862. His rank was that of captain. With his brother, Duke of Chartres, and his uncle, the Prince de Joinville, he was engaged in several battles among them Williamsburg and Gaines' Mill. At that time the princes were members of the French nobility and for political reasons were recalled to Europe. The count wrote several volumes of a history of the civil war, but did not complete the work. He visited this country in 1890 to make a study of the battlefields.

Points About Children's Shoes.

One of the hardest things about clothing the children is their shoes. It seems to the mother that some one of the children must have a new pair of shoes most of the time and to the father that he is paying out money all the time. The youngster wears out the sole, punches a hole or tears the seam of the shoes in some manner continually and you parents are looking for a stronger shoe each time you buy. We have handled children's shoes largely for many years and have at all times looked for the strongest and best makes on the market until we believe we have at present the best line, all points considered, we ever sold. Our shoes have always given good satisfaction and our stock this fall is a banner one. A. Richardson Shoe Co.

the very biggest dollar he could for the risk he ran.

If a man exchanged labor or property for it, the best dollar that could be made was none too good for him. "After a hard day's work what workingman ever believed the dollar he received was too large?" asked Mr. Keator amid cheers.

Silver miners wanted free silver for themselves but not for anybody else, he declared. He riddled their arguments about the "crime of 1873" and showed that from 1880 to 1890, after the "crime" was fairly at work, this "blighted" country increased in wealth $2,500,000 with each rising of the sun. The savings banks—the banks of the people—showed how fearfully the "crime" had operated. In 1860 there were on deposit in the savings banks of the country $253,201,000. In 1890 after thirty years of protection with the crime of 1873 thrown in, the savings bank deposits reached $1,629,005,000.

Big Sales of Farm Produce

Speaking to the farmers Mr. Keator asked whether it was the crime of 1873 or the crime of 1892 that aided them. It could hardly have been the crime of 73, because in the twelve months of 1892 American farmers sold and exported nineteen million pounds more of bacon than they ever had in any year before, twelve million pounds more of beef, sixteen million more of live cattle, one hundred and fifty million bushels more of grain, twenty-five million bushels more of seed, a million and a half bushels more of fruit and nuts, two million pounds more of oil cake. This was the condition of trade when there was committed the crime of 1892—a crime by the side of which the "crime of 1873" pales into insignificance.

When Horses Are Demonized

"Silver men go to the farmer and say that nothing will help the hard times and low prices but free coinage of silver" said Mr. Keator. They suggested that oats have dropped to 12 or 13 cents a bushel since silver was stricken down, but they didn't explain that Edison demonized horses when he invented electrical street railways, and that there are a million mouths less to feed on the farmers' oats. They skip the electric street car and lay all the troubles to the limit on coinage. [Cheers.]

"They remind me of an old Nebraska farmer, who told me the only thing that would save Nebraska farmers was free silver."

"What is the trouble in your case?" I enquired.

"Why, I've got the biggest crop of hay I've had in fifteen years, and nothing but a lot of gum-dusted bicycles to feed it to!" [Uproarious cheers.]

Why Wheat Went Down.

Mr. Keator devoted considerable time to the price of wheat. Its fall, he said, furnished silver men with their staple argument. They didn't explain that since 1873 quite a number of other countries had gone to raising grain. India in 1873 raised 575,000 bushels of grain. Last year on deep soil and with four-cent a day labor, it raised 35,000,000 bushels.

In 1873 the Argentine Republic raised no wheat. Last year it raised 60,000,000 bushels.

Russia, in 1873, raised 53,000 bushels, and last year 112,000,000 bushels.

In 1873 there were 23,000,000 acres of wheat lands in the United States; last year there were 39,000,000 acres. Free silver men overlook all these figures. They say coinage laws are to blame.

Mr. Keator warned farmers that if they didn't vote to rebuke the crime of 1892, start mills and factories and protect the American home market they would find wheat lower yet.

Since 1892 a million of daily wage workers had been out of work. There were 76,000,000 bushels less of wheat eaten last year than in 1892 on this account. Under-consumption as well as over-production had something to do with the price of wheat in this country. The crime of 1892, not the crime of 1873 was what hit the farmer. It hit the workingman at the same time.

In closing, Mr. Keator turned again to the coinage issue.

Bryan's Promise of Panic.

"Mr. Bryan admits that the passage of a free silver law will cause a panic," he said, "but he argues that desperate remedies are required. Well, the last panic we had put a million of us so near the poor house that another would shove us clear inside." [Cheers, and cries of "that's so!"]

The meeting was full of enthusiasm and many pushed from the audience after the speech ended to grasp Mr. Keator's hand and extend congratulations.

Good Time For Stoves.

Not a man in Janesville but that has already thought of how he would heat his house this coming winter and whether or not he would be obliged to procure another stove. Some of you will be obliged to buy and let us put a flea in your ear right now, we have the finest line of heating and cooking stoves this year we ever have handled. Not the slightest motive can be ascribed for the crime.

WOMEN DISCOURAGED.

GOOD AND SUFFICIENT REASONS FOR THE BLUES.

Doctors Fail to Understand Symptoms That Are Danger Signals.

A marked trait in woman's character is to place implicit confidence in her physician.

A man must work entirely from theory in the treatment of female diseases, for unfortunately facts based upon actual knowledge, belong to the female sex alone. Many women who periodically suffer with attacks of faintness, dizziness, extreme lassitude, "don't care" or want-to-be-left-alone feeling, do not at first realize that these are the infallible symptoms of womb trouble and the forerunners of great suffering.

Soon they grow to feel that the doctor does not understand their case. Then they remember that "a woman best understands a woman's ills," and turn to Mrs. Pinkham.

The following letter is but one positive illustration of this fact:—

"Four years ago I began to suffer with great weakness of the generative organs. My womb was prolapsed; I suffered with continual backache and all the other pains that accompany that weakness. I tried doctor after doctor, had operations. The final operation after which I became a total wreck, was scraping of the womb. A friend, one day, recommended to my husband your Compound. He bought me a bottle. The relief I experienced after taking it, was wonderful. I continued its use, and I am glad to say my recovery is a perfect surprise to everybody that knows me."—Mrs. B. BLUM, 4940 San Francisco Ave., St. Louis, Mo.

HOLLOWNESS OF BRYANISM WELL SET FORTH.

Big Audience Cheered the Eloquent Chicago Printer—Demonstration of Horses—Why Wheat Prices Have Fallen—Free Silver For Mine Owners Exclusively.

Solid facts—simple facts—the facts about farm produce, and living expenses, and workmen's wages that everybody wants to hear, were dealt out by Hon. Theron P. Keator last night. Mr. Keator is a workman—a member of the Chicago Typographical Union—and he discussed the silver question from the workman's point of view. He brought forth uproarious applause time and again, and in the course of his address he sowed up one or two local silverites very tightly.

The meeting was an inspiring one. The Myers opera house couldn't hold the crowd. Many had driven in from surrounding towns, while a big share of the Labor Day picnicers were to be seen. Capt. Pliny Norcross was chairman, and with him on the platform sat W. T. Vankirk, Hamilton Richardson, A. P. Lovejoy, O. P. Nowlan, William Tripp, Ogden H. Fethers, M. G. Jeffris, W. A. Jackson, O. D. Rowe, David Thorne, F. S. Lawrence, W. G. Wheeler, J. M. Whitehead, Cyrus Miner, C. H. Kueck, Philip Koch, J. K. P. Porter and others.

Mr. Keator well received. There were brief remarks by Captain Norcross, and the speaker of the evening was then introduced. He entered upon a discussion of the money question without delay. He was interrupted by one or two questions, but got the crowd on his side instantly, by his readiness of answer.

Mr. Keator spoke of the reason for various "ratios," and what there was to recommend the purely arbitrary ratio of 16 to 1. From that he passed to a consideration of the motives actuating the great body of silver men and the motives actuating their leaders. He spoke of Altgeld, and the fact that while he was campaigning for the free coinage of silver he took no chances in his own business, but put a gold clause in all his leases. He quoted Senator Stewart's contracts to the same effect, and told how Colin Harvey drew his deposit from the Metropolitan National Bank in gold and looked it in a safe deposit vault.

"These men are around trying to work the country for suckers, but they take no chances themselves," said the speaker, amid cheers.

Mr. Keator sketched the course of the coinage debate in 1873, and showed how thoroughly the question had been debated. He cited Thomas Jefferson's action in stopping the coinage of silver dollars in 1806, and declared that instead of stopping the use of silver in 1873, the country really only began to use it in that year.

How Silver is Piling Up. "In all the years up to 1873," he said, "we had coined 8,031,238 silver dollars. In the first six months of this year alone we coined 300,000 more than that—more silver dollars in the six months ending July 1, 1896, than were coined from 1792 to 1873."

The fall of wheat and the fall of silver afforded an argument for silver men. Mr. Keator said. If more silver would bring up the price of wheat he wanted to know why it was that in 1873 with only $5,000,000 of silver in the country wheat sold for $1.25 a bushel, while now with $500,000,000 of silver in circulation wheat is down around 50 cents.

The difference between "free" silver coinage, where the coin simply went at its bullion value, and silver coinage, with a powerful government guarantee to keep each coin at par with gold, was suggested. There had been much talk about a double standard. A single standard was inevitable.

A Variable Yard Stick.

"When you buy or sell cloth you use the same yard stick the country over," said Mr. Keator. "Now suppose you had a yard stick that owing to some uncontrollable influence would shrink occasionally to twenty-six inches. Days when you bought by the twenty-six inch yard measure you would be cheated and when you sold by it you would be cheating. Silver is just such a yard stick. So greatly does its production vary that the price of the metal fluctuates daily. Under such conditions a double standard is impossible, and the talk you hear about it merely makes a desire for monometallism."

Mr. Keator declared that silver countries were the ones where the rich were really getting richer and the poor poorer. He had seen the nabobs of the city of Mexico walking about with rows of diamond buttons down their trouser legs, while the men of the country tried to keep body and soul together on four, six or twelve cents a day. Mexico, with its constant fluctuations in the value of dollars, was the money-lender's haven. The bank of Mexico not long ago declared a dividend of 29 per cent. There would be indignation meetings of populists all day long if any bank in the United States should declare a dividend of 29 per cent.

The speaker couldn't understand how an abundance of cheap silver dollars would help anybody. How were people to get them? But three ways could be suggested for the circulating of money.

If a man bagged it he wanted the best dollar he could get.

If a man stole it, he wanted to get

We are showing hundreds of pieces at from 25 cents to $2 a yard each and every one a distinct and separate pattern. One need not spend an exceedingly great amount of money for a handsome fall dress, for instance the line of 25 cent goods includes a hundred pieces in widths of 36 to 42 inches, the most beautiful designs and colorings, all wool, and really worth fifty cents a yard. Of course the higher priced articles show for themselves, and to those whom the greater money does not pull so heavily, one can get the prettiest kind of a dress. MERRIMAN CARRIES BELOIT CAUCUSES

LINE CITY DOCTOR IN ASSEMBLY FIGHT.

Last Night's Victory Gives Him Within Two Votes of Enough to Nominate Him—Congressman C. N. Fowler, of New Jersey, to Speak at Beloit, Sept. 10.

Beloit, Sept. 8.—[Special.]—At the republican caucuses held last night the entire slate of delegates that had been fixed for Dr. C. W. Merriman, for assemblyman, from the Third district, were elected without a much opposition. This will insure Mr. Merriman a total of twenty-one votes on the first ballot, or two short of a majority.

Mr. Jones, the present incumbent, is making a fight for re-nomination, and Halvor Cleophas, of Avon, is also in the race. The assembly convention meets next Saturday in this city.

Beloit, Sept. 8.—[Special.]—Hon. C. N. Fowler, of New Jersey, a graduate of Beloit College, and one of the foremost political speakers of the present campaign, will address the citizens of Beloit and vicinity next Thursday evening, September 10. Mr. Fowler is a member of congress from New Jersey and is chairman of the house committee on banks and banking. He is therefore well qualified to speak on the topic of sound money.

THE LOST CHILDREN OF THE CITY.

[A scene at the station house.]
"Leave hope behind, all ye who enter here."
As the sad Florio upon the gate
Of endless night beheld those words of fate,
So darken they our thought as we draw near These haunts unused to prayer or softening tear.
But, lo! like flowers that on fire's pathway
wait
To comfort lands laid waste and desolate,
Now the lost children light these shadows
drear!
As tinkling springs that on a sudden greet
The traveler in a wild, rock set and sear,
So rise the tones of childish laughter sweet—
O little ones beguiled of grief and fear.
Then seems some tender echo to repeat,
"There yet is hope, all ye who enter here!"
—Edith M. Thomas in Century.

A WOMAN'S COURAGE.

"My God, colonel, we're surrounded!
Morgan's men are on us!"
It was in 1863, at the time when John Morgan and his famous band of guerrillas were raiding the country, pillaging, burning and striking terror to all the country round about, that a little band of Union men, about 500, a detachment of General Lew Wallace's division, who had been left to protect supplies at a point in Kentucky near the Ohio line, were surprised and surrounded by Ellsworth's division of Morgan's men.

A sergeant dashed without ceremony into headquarters with the startling news. There was no time for delay. The outposts had reported the simultaneous appearance of lines of mounted men springing like ghosts from all points of the compass.

"Morgan's devils? That means trouble," cried the colonel. "Here, Crawford, wire Cincinnati for re-enforcements."

Frank Crawford, an aid to General
Wallace, and detailed as telegraph operator, grasped the key of the ticker and flashed an appeal over the wire.

Back came the answer:
"Special train, 2,000 men, south bound, pass you in an hour. Stop them."

Preparation for defense were useless.
The guerrillas began to close in and the bluecoats found themselves outnumbered five to one. But there appeared to be no intention on the part of the raiders to press a fight. They amused themselves by slowly riding around the camp and setting slow fires to the supports of railroad bridges over the river near the camp. This gave the Union boys no little alarm. Some one must get through the lines and flag the train.

"Who will volunteer to run the guntlet?" asked the commander.

He looked at the circle of brave men around him. There was a pause. It meant almost certain death.

"I will go," cried one.

"What, you, Crawford?"

"Yes. Here, give me the flag."

Frank Crawford was no coward, but in a tent adjoining headquarters lay a handsome brown eyed woman, his wife,
and by her side a bright little baby boy,
born under the old flag but four days before. Near by an old colored nurse was comforting a 3-year-old lad who was frightened by the noise without.
The husband and father choked back the emotions which threatened to shake his brave purpose, and after a hasty embrace and parting kiss rushed out of the tent.

The guerrillas were riding around outside, keeping close watch over every movement in camp. Stealthily Crawford moved along, watching for an unguarded point at an opportune moment.
Mrs. Crawford was as brave as her husband. Rising from her bed, she staggered to the door of the tent just in time to see him captured. Her heart stood still for a moment; then, quick as a flash, she turned, pressed her babe to her bosom for an instant, then glided out and across the camp between the tents, like a white robed specter. Headless of danger, she hurried on, the excitement giving her strength.

The soldiers stood agast as the woman rushed past them. Ahead were the bridges, and clouds of smoke were slowly rolling skyward from the rebel fires beneath.

"Halt!" The order rang out above
the din.

The determined woman paid no attention to the command.

"Fire!" A cloud of bullets fell on all sides. She heeded them not, but ran on, her long black hair flying about her shoulders and her loose gown and bare feet giving her the appearance of an insane woman. She reached the bridge and leaped from tie to tie in safety. Beyond was a second bridge. Could she make it? It was burning underneath.
She could see the flames leaping up around the beams. She grew dizzy. She dared not look down. Everything was getting black. With superhuman strength she gathered herself for the final effort. Another beam was reached, another, one more. Thank God, she was over!

Her foot had scarcely left the last beam when, crash! the whole structure collapsed. Horrified and stunned by the effect of her narrow escape, for a moment she was powerless to move. Then she heard the whistle of the locomotive as it rounded the curve. Springing forward, followed by the angry and disappointed cries of her pursuers, and grasping the little red skirt of her baby, which she had picked up from the floor of the tent as she left, she raised it, and,
summoning all her remaining strength, waved it frantically above her head. A rifle shot rang out, and the brave woman fell, pierced by a rebel bullet.

The signal was seen. The train with its precious freight was stopped almost at the brink of the ravine.

On the side track in front of the engine lay she who had risked her life to save the soldiers. White and still was the upturned face, as though death had laid his hand upon her. Tenderly the silent figure was carried into a car and laid upon a hastily constructed cot, and gentle hands ministered to her needs.

Meanwhile a dramatic scene was being enacted not far away. General Ellsworth had ridden up to the top of a knoll above the camp where he could command a view of all that passed below. Crawford, the operator, had been strapped to the back of a horse and was being carried, surrounded by a crowd of raiders, to their chief.

The lawlessness of Morgan's men had caused a general order from Union headquarters to be posted all over the country announcing that any one caught devastating property would be shot on sight. Captain Crawford, afterward brevetted colonel, was detailed to post
the notices, thereby gaining the hatred of the raiders, who only wanted an opportunity to vent their revenge on him.
The opportunity now presented itself,
and as they drew near the general removed his fieldglass from his eyes and surveyed the prisoner.

"Who is he?"

A corporal advanced and saluted.

"A Union soldier, sir."

"Where did you get him?"

"Caught attempting to run through the lines with a flag. I think he wanted to flag some train."

"Lieutenant, detail ten men and have him shot."

As the lieutenant turned to obey the order something familiar about the prisoner attracted the attention of the general.

"Say, fellow, what's your name?" he inquired.

"Crawford," came the answer.

The general started.

"What did you say? Crawford? Your first name, man, quick!"

"Frank."

The general looked again into the prisoner's face.

"My God, Frank, is it you?" he said, and as the situation dawned on him he continued:

"This is too bad."

Crawford, in surprise, surveyed his captor for a moment and recognized an old school chum and companion.

"Why, Ellsworth, I didn't know you!" he exclaimed.

"Here, lieutenant, take good care of this man. I'll attend to his case later," said the general as he hastily turned away and resumed his inspection of the scene below. Scarcely had he put his glass to his eyes when he beheld the fleeting figure fall before the halting train. This was the signal for action among the rebels. With a few sharp commands the troops formed in retreating order and were soon lost to view in a cloud of dust.

Hours passed and the little woman,
once more in camp, showed signs of returning life. Suddenly she opened her eyes.

"What is that?" she gasped.

"Be quiet," replied the nurse. "It is nothing. You have been ill and must remain quiet."

"No, no; it is calling me," she persisted, raising herself with much difficulty upon her arm. "I must go and see what he wants."

"She must be out of her mind," thought the nurse as she gently tried to persuade the sick woman to remain still.

"There it is again, calling, calling."

"What is calling?"

"The telegraph instrument. You must take me to it. It is my husband's private call. There, don't you hear it?"

In an adjoining tent on an improvised desk the telegraph ticker merrily clicked away its dots and dashes. Thinking only to humor her, the nurse called a couple of stalwart soldiers and the cot with its precious burden was carried close to the instrument.

Tremblingly her fingers sought the key. Her husband had taught her its use and given her a peculiar call by which she could always recognize him.

It was this call, the presence of his thought, that had called her spirit back to earth.

"Who is it?" she ticked.

"Friend—foe—friend—foe," came the answer.

"What do you want?"

"Mrs. Crawford."

"This is she. What is it?"

"I, General Ellsworth, saw your brave deed from the hill where I stood," came the message, "and, although I had previously commanded that your husband be shot, you need have no fear. I will spare his life for your sake. Goodby!"

She sank back on the cot exhausted, tears filled her eyes and a faint "Thank God!" escaped her lips as she was carried back to her tent.

The guerrillas had made a hasty retreat, taking Crawford with them, and were now 20 miles away, camping for the night.

The hatred against Crawford was so bitter that General Ellsworth could not pardon him, but that night, under the cover of darkness and in charge of a secretly instructed officer, Crawford was mounted on the fleetest horse in camp,
with the instructions from the general
to "ride like h—!"

He evidently obeyed, for he was not seen again by the rebel soldiers. Nine days after he joined his wife and babies at Union headquarters. It was a happy reunion, and as soon as Mrs. Crawford was able there was an elaborate reception given by the officers in their honor, at the Burnett House, in Cincinnati.

By a strange coincidence, that was the very day Morgan and his men were captured, and the prisoners were made to pass in review before the hotel en route to prison.—Detroit News.

The Italians' Street Cries.

The itinerant Italian fruit vender illustrates some curious peculiarities of speech. In his native land he is given to vowel terminations, but here it is otherwise, and even the voice with which he cries his wares is harsh and raucous. The strawberry becomes "strawb," as he cries it; but, oddly enough, the lemon becomes "lemmi," and the vowel closing banana is consonantized into "banan." It is the same with the collector of rags and bottles, who vocalizes them into "raggi botti," while the organ grinder clips the final vowel sound from monkey and calls it
"da monk." Queer, isn't it?—Boston Herald.

vest excursions to South and North Dakota and to other states in the Loose clothes and downy cushions

bring only a negative sort of comfort to the woman who is suffering with some disease or derangement of the organs distinctly feminine. Some clothes and some positions make the pain and discomfort seem less. Perhaps the nerves are most affected and this in-turn disturbs the digestion. Nothing will ever completely relieve but a radical cure. The start of so-called "female complaints" may be a very slight thing indeed.
It may be that in the beginning some small hygienic measures would stop the trouble.
Certainly at this time, a little bit of the right medicine would stop it. When the trouble becomes worse, it is harder to cure, but still it can be cured. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription will positively cure any trouble of this character. It may be absolutely relied upon. It affords lasting relief to a woman whose natural modesty has kept her from consulting physicians.

Like All Other Headaches

Gives speedy relief to all, no opiates and absolutely safe, producing no nausea or unpleasant results, but invigorates, strengthens, causing grateful feeling of physical energy, strength,
Mental vigor and activity.

James H. Freeman, Waynes, Ga., says: "Yours is the King of all Headache Cures. Myself and daughter have tried it as well as other Headache Cures, and unhesitatingly pronounce it the best. It will do what you claim for it every time."

 Proprietress—What do you mean, sir?
 New Boarder—I am not in training for a bicycle race; I'm not trying to take off flesh, and the doctor says my digestion is perfect.
 Proprietress—I think I understand you. It was very considerate to mention the matter privately. Just eat at the second table with me.—Detroit Free Press.

A Prescription.
 The young woman who takes music lessons and practices scales, had announced to her friends that she was going away.
 "Isn't it rather a sudden determination?"
 "Yes. It's the doctor's orders."
 "Why, you don't look the least bit ill."
 "Oh, I'm perfectly well. Auntie is the one who is sick."—Washington Star.

 "Ah, for a lame back, I presume?" inquired the druggist, suavely.

Her Cake.
 Mrs. Cook (who prides herself upon her rich cake)—Have a piece of this cake, Mrs. Nareve; you needn't be afraid of it; it's not at all rich.

A Roland for an Oliver.

A POISONED LIVER.

DON'T KEEP POISON IN YOUR BODY LONGER THAN YOU HAVE TO.

If your stomach poisons your liver the consequences may be serious. What poisons arise in your stomach come from undigested food which has decomposed there. They are absorbed by your blood and go to your liver, where they paralyze its functions and make you bilious. Finally they go into the blood again and are carried all over the body, disordering your different organs, and perhaps making you dangerously sick. This is the origin of many diseases which are not always known for what they are.

The poisons of undigested food can only be got rid of by the use of a purifying, strengthening digestive tonic, like the Shaker Digestive Cordial.

A few doses of this wonderful cordial will soon clear away all undigested, fermenting, poisonous substances, restore your appetite, aid you to digest your food, purify your liver and blood of all dangerous poisons, and restores you to perfect health.

It will cure biliousness, indigestion, nausea, headache, dizziness, mental depression, weakness, fever, flatulence, constipation, loss of appetite, bad taste in mouth, stomach-ache, anamia, rheumatism, etc., where other medicines will barely give relief.

At druggists. Ten cents for a trial bottle. Write for free book to The Shakers, 30 Reade Street, New York.

Suicide in Burning Stacks.

St. Louis, Mo., Sept. 8.—An attractive girl, aged 22, Lizzie Everson, committed suicide in a most horrible manner on a farm eight miles from East St. Louis at 2 o'clock Monday morning. At that hour she arose and told her sister she was going to get a drink. Half an hour later the family heard a noise made by the cattle in a field near by. The father, on arising, discovered two large haystacks were on fire, and Lizzie could not be found. When the haystacks had burned the charred body of the girl was discovered. The family could ascribe no cause why she should have taken her life. William Everson, her father, is a man of wealth.

Crashes Through a Trestle.

Clinton, Mo., Sept. 8.—A locomotive on the Kansas City, Osceola and Southern railroad crashed through a burning trestle over Town creek Monday, instantly killing Engineer Edward Smith and Richard Barter, a farmer. Four other men escaped by jumping. Farmer Barter had discovered the fire, ran to the roundhouse, gave the alarm and boarded the locomotive that started for the fire. Engineer Smith lost control of his engine and ran onto the burning trestle.

Decision as to Sunday Work.

Mount Vernon, Ill., Sept. 8.—The Appellate court of the 4th district held in the case of Foll vs. the people, appeal from the Circuit court of Richland county, that piling corn on Sunday near the public highway, in sight of church-goers, does not, in itself, constitute a disturbance of the peace. The defendant, being a seventh day adventist, observed Saturday as the Sabbath and plowed corn on Sunday, and his arrest and conviction resulted.

Runs Eleven Miles a Minute.

Portland, Ind., Sept. 8.—George Huff, a local inventor, claims to have constructed an engine by which he can run a train of cars at the rate of eleven miles a minute. The engine is a rotary and runs 4,000 revolutions a minute. It develops sixteen-horsepower, where others of different kinds develop only two. He also has a device to be attached to engines, doing away with steam and running them by compressed air.

Major McKinley Receives Calls.

Canton, O., Sept. 8.—Among the callers at the McKinley home Monday were Judge Carter of California, Judge Johnson of Montana, Colonel Fisher of Denver, Colonel R. D. Brown, J. M. Ickes and Congressman Harris of Ohio and Wilbur S. Wakeman of the American Protective Tariff league of New York. The Boonville, Ind., McKinley club, 400 strong, and the Warwick County, Indiana, McKinley club, 1,300 strong, telegraphed greetings to Major Hunting Them with Bloodhounds.

Topeka, Kan., Sept. 8.—Two unknown men went to the house of Mrs. Sam Reublin, near Maple Hill, late Saturday night and bound, gagged and beat her. They tried to make her tell where her husband's money was hidden, but she refused, and when her husband returned home at 11 o'clock, she was in a dying condition. An armed posse has been hunting the culprits with bloodhounds.

Makes Women Eligible.

Piqua, O., Sept. 8.—The Methodist Episcopal conference of the Cincinnati district Monday voted in favor of changing the constitution so as to make women eligible to membership in the general conference and allowing equal ministerial and lay representation in the same body. A committee was appointed to make disposition of the chartered fund and the dividends of the book concern at Cincinnati.

Schweinfurth To Wed.

Chicago, Sept. 8.—Unless George Jacob Schweinfurth, the self-confessed bogus "Messiah," should have a streak of the same bad luck which pursued young Mr. Vanderbilt when he tried to get married, he will to-morrow take unto himself a legal partner of his joys and sorrows. The bride-to-be is the "boss" angel of his Rockford "heaven," Lady Aurora Israeli Tuttle.
